2nd Annual Pediatric Autoimmune Liver Disease Symposium and Family Day

Targeting the Microbiome in Autoimmune Liver Disease

September 29-30, 2018, Cincinnati, OH

Cincinnati Children’s Hospital Medical Center
Center for Autoimmune Liver Disease (CALD)

Inviting all individuals interested in or impacted by Autoimmune Hepatitis or Primary Sclerosing Cholangitis including: gastroenterologists, clinical and research fellows, nurses and nurse practitioners, dietitians, patients, and families.

Family-Centered Clinical Conference: Saturday, September 29, 2018:
Introduction to Autoimmune Liver Disease and Treatment, Liver Fibrosis, Nutritional Therapy, Transition to Adult Providers, Psychological Stressor & Coping Mechanisms in AILD, Update on Clinical Studies, Learning Network, and CALD Research Update

Research Conference: Sunday, September 30, 2018:
Dysbiosis and Therapeutic Targets, Prebiotic & Antimicrobial Therapy, Regulatory Considerations for Treatment Trials, and Clinical Trial of Oral Vancomycin in PSC

Call for Abstracts: Selection for oral or poster presentation with opportunity for travel awards. Please submit abstracts to cald@cchmc.org; Submission deadline: September 15, 2018 at 11:59 p.m.

Registration: www.regonline.com/palds2018; early registration through September 1, 2018
https://www.cincinnatichildrens.org/service/a/autoimmune-liver-disease/events